

[English] Version numbers

How does my logical numbering of my version numbers work?

Well, it's actually quite simple.

$x$ (number of complete rewrites)  $y$ (number of new features)  $z$ (number of bug fixes + mini changes)

This means that version 3.9.17 has already been rewritten

- has been rewritten 3 times
- has 9 added features since the last rewrite
- had 17 bug fixes or other small things.

With each new complete rewrite Y and Z set back to 0.

Version 3.9.17 + rewrite -> 4.0.0
